

Karolinska Cardiogenici Shock Days

4-5 June, 2025

Stockholm, Sweden

Dear Industry Representatives,

I am writing this letter to extend a warm invitation to your company to endorse our upcoming scientific meeting, Karolinska cardiogenic Shock Days, which will be held on 4th-5th of June 2025 in Stockholm-Sweden. Karolinska Cardiogenic Shock Days is a scientific meeting that will bring together leading experts, researchers, and professionals in the field of cardiogenic shock. This meeting is a collaboration between Royal Brompton & Harefield Hospital, Barts Hospital, and Karolinska University Hospital.

Our aim is to exchange knowledge with internationally recognized leaders in this field, to foster collaboration with other colleagues, and to showcase the latest advances in the field of cardiogenic shock. The target audience will be heart failure cardiologists, interventional cardiologists, thoracic surgeons, anesthesiologists, perfusionists, and MCS coordinators from countries all over the world.

We are planning to have a combined sponsorship including industrial sponsorship with institutional sponsorship and we have already applied for ESC and ISHLT endorsement and planning to apply for endorsement by the Swedish Heart and Lung Foundation. We have also applied for accreditation by the European Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (EACCME®).

We would be honored to have your company as an official sponsor of Karolinska Cardiogenic Shock days. Your endorsement would not only contribute to the success of our event but also strengthen the bonds within our professional community. Your endorsement would lend credibility and support to our meeting, helping us attract a wider audience and ensuring the success of the event.

Warm regards,

Dr. Emil Najjar, MD PhD, FHFA
Cardiology Unit
Karolinska University Hospital
Stockholm, Sweden
