

PLATINUM SPONSOR

Johnson & Johnson lunch symposium during the Scandinavian Congress of Rheumatology

Professor Carlo Selmi

Friday September 5th 2025

12.15–13.00

Clarion Hotel & Congress Malmö Live

Management of Complex Psoriatic Arthritis

Professor Carlo Selmi, MD and PhD, is Full Professor of Internal Medicine at the Humanitas University in Milan and currently leads the Department of Rheumatology and Clinical Immunology at Humanitas research hospital in Milan, Italy. Professor Selmi has coauthored over 450 peer-reviewed publications with a Scopus H index of 77. His research track is dedicated to organ-specific and systemic autoimmune and chronic inflammatory diseases, including the clinical epidemiology and pathogenetic mechanisms of connective tissue disease (particularly systemic sclerosis), and psoriatic arthritis.

During the symposium, Professor Selmi will share his insights on the management of complex psoriatic arthritis, including addressing how healthcare professionals from various specialties collaborate in a coordinated approach to treat patients with severe psoriatic arthritis.

SPEAKER

Carlo Selmi

Full Professor, MD and PhD

MODERATOR

René Østgård

MD and PhD

Scan the QR code to register for the symposium at SCR or to attend via live stream.

Registration for the lunch symposium is completed along with your registration for Scandinavian Congress of Rheumatology. The lunch symposium is part of the official program during Scandinavian Congress of Rheumatology.

If you are unable to attend the congress in person, there is also an option to participate in the symposium via live streaming.

Johnson & Johnson does not cover the registration fee, travel, or accommodation in connection with the meeting.

CP-521582 / 05.2025