

PETER RUCINSKI

Mr. Rucinski holds BS and MS degrees in plastics engineering from UMASS Lowell and has technical expertise in the fields of polymer material data science and CAE simulation. He is committed to helping clients and laypersons understand and realize the benefits of the plastics circular economy for business, society and the environment.